

A Case for an International Court for the Environment

The London School of Economics and Political Science

New Academic Building, Wolfson Theatre

<http://www2.lse.ac.uk/mapsAndDirections/howToGetToLSE.aspx>

Saturday 14 November 2009 Registration: 9:00am

Start of event: 9:30am

It gives us great pleasure to invite you to “A case for an International Court for the Environment (ICE)” brought to you by the ICE Coalition in partnership with Global Policy.

This seminar seeks to stimulate renewed academic discussion and debate about what role an ICE would serve in strengthening the international environmental legal order.

The morning will be chaired by Lord Anthony Giddens: Professor Emeritus and former Director of the LSE, Social Theorist and Author. With the following speakers leading the debate:

Stephen Hockman QC

Dr Veerle Heyvaert

Donald MacGillivray

Zen Makuch

Philip Riches

Attached to this invitation is a full agenda for the session including brief speaker biographies.

Attendance is free of charge but seating will be limited and therefore must be reserved.

Please make sure you contact us at <http://www.environmentcourt.com/#/contact-us/4533382473> to reserve your tickets now.

We very much hope that you will be able to join us on day.

The ICE Coalition

